

Bronze Copper Shade

The Bronze Copper collection brings a sculptural sophistication to any interior. Its rich and reflective qualities take on the characteristics of its surrounding. The copper interior and brass exterior give a double colour effect. Available as a floor or pendant light.

Process	Bronze Copper collection is formed using a technically advanced process of vacuum metallisation. The process involves vaporising a small amount of pure copper at a very high temperature and then sucking it on to a surface by applying an electrical charge. Extremely small holes can appear at times within the metal coating due to environmental conditions.
